

A downtown creative space committed to the presentation and promotion of innovative space-specific installations by New Mexico artists.

SUSANNA CARLISLE
BRUCE HAMILTON
RUNAWAYS

opening reception: Friday, Dec. 9, 5-7 PM
Exhibit: December 9- December 30, 2011

Located on the Santa Fe Plaza
54 ½ East San Francisco Street Suite 2
(above Haagen-Dazs ice cream shop)

Mon - Fri 10 - 5

Contact : Eileen Brazier at 505.699.4914

Runaways- Video Projection of Salt Cedar on Recycled Glass 2012

New Mexico Arts, Art in Public Places, a division of the Department of Cultural Affairs is partnering with Urban Paradise Guild (UPG) in South Florida to create awareness of invasive non-indigenous plants that are taking over native habitats. As part of a national exchange, UPG has sent materials to New Mexico where Carlisle and Hamilton have created a site specific installation in the New Mexico Arts Centennial Project Space.