Introduction to New Mexico Arts

New Mexico Arts contracts arts services on behalf of the state for the people of New Mexico. Activities funded for FY2009 should have a public presentation component that takes place between July 1, 2008, and June 30, 2009. However, New Mexico Arts cannot reimburse programming expenses until the arts services contract has been approved by the State Department of Finance and Administration.

Each year, New Mexico Arts receives requests totaling more than double the amount of funds available. Applicants should be aware that less than full funding for approved applications typically occurs. If a successful applicant receives less than full funding, New Mexico Arts will require a revised budget at contract time that identifies additional sources of funding or reduced programming in order to achieve a balanced budget.

Who May Apply:

Federal 501 (c) (3) tax-exempt nonprofit organizations, units of government, schools, colleges, universities, and Indian tribal government entities with offices in New Mexico are eligible to apply. New Mexico based organizations wishing to apply that are not one of the above may enter into a fiscal sponsorship with a nonprofit organization. If using a Fiscal Agent, a formal agreement between the agent and the applicant is required. Please read the Fiscal Agent Agreement on page 11 of these guidelines before submitting an application.

Each applicant organization is required to have one of the following: Federal 501 (c) (3) tax-exempt status and a Federal ID or Employer ID number; a Fiscal Agent Agreement with an organization that has 501 (c) (3) status; or to have filed with the IRS for 501 (c) (3) status by the published application deadline of December 7, 2007. Organizations (or Fiscal Agents) must provide New Mexico Arts with their Federal IRS number by June 2008. If an organization does not have a letter from the IRS with the Federal ID or Employer ID number on it, New Mexico Arts will be unable to enter into an arts services contract with the organization, even if funding has been approved. For more information about how to obtain IRS 501 (c) (3) status, contact New Mexico Arts at 1-800-879-4278, (505) 827-6490, or fax (505) 827-6043, or visit the IRS website at <http://www.irs.gov/charities/article/0,,id=96590,00.html> and www.stayexempt.org.

- Not be discussed with NMA Commissioners or panelists during the grants process, December 7, 2007 – June 30, 2008, as this will make an application ineligible.

All applicants must use CultureGrants OnlineSM at www.nmarts.org. The guidelines are available in PDF format on our website. Technical difficulties with the online application or with personal computers are the applicant's responsibility and may not be accepted as an excuse for late or incomplete applications. It is advisable to print a hard copy after making any changes, in case you experience problems.

Advance Review:

An Advance Review is offered prior to the final deadline to help applicants improve their applications and to check for mistakes that might cause ineligibility. If an applicant was declared ineligible or did not receive funding in the past year or has not applied to New Mexico Arts in the past two years, an Advance Review is required. In addition, New Mexico Arts' Program Coordinators may require some organizations to submit an Advance Review based on past applications. Failure to comply will disqualify those organizations from submitting a Final Application in December.

New Mexico Arts strongly encourages all applicants to take advantage of this service. To complete an Advance Review, applicants must complete and submit an online application and send one set of all required attachments with titles but no signatures, including printed artistic materials. Do not send video, audio, or digital images, unless you make prior arrangements with your program coordinator. All Advance Review applications (Forms A-F) must be submitted online through CultureGrants OnlineSM by October 12, 2007. Application Process

Staff Review:

Following the application deadline of December 7, 2007, staff will determine eligibility by checking that applications were submitted by the application deadline.

Panel Review and New Mexico Arts Commission Action:

Application Review Panels, comprised of peers from the field, meet from mid-March through April. Panelists review and score applications based on the panel evaluation criteria outlined for each funding category. Applications that do not meet stated eligibility requirements will not be reviewed by panels. The panel rankings will be posted on the NMA website within ten business days of the panel meeting at www.nmarts.org. The panel rankings will be presented to the Planning and Budget Committee of the New Mexico Arts Commission for funding recommendations in May. Final approval of funding recommendations occurs at the next meeting of the full New Mexico Arts Commission in May. New Mexico Arts will notify applicants of funding awards after June 1, 2008.

Avoidance of Conflict of Interest:

In adherence to New Mexico Arts' policies, applicants are asked not to contact panelists and New Mexico Arts Commissioners during the grants process December 7, 2007 – June 30, 2008. Organizational representatives and staff may not discuss their applications for funding from New Mexico Arts with members of the review panel or the commission. To avoid any perceived conflicts of interest, applicants should not attempt to contact New Mexico Arts Commissioners until after their May meeting at which funding recommendations are approved. Actions such as inviting commissioners and panelists to events, writing them personal messages about your program, and speaking to them directly about the organization could be interpreted by some, including other applicants, as attempts to influence the commission or panel about your grant application score and ultimate funding from NMA. Any attempts to influence the commission or panel during the grants process may jeopardize future funding from New Mexico Arts.

Appeals Policy & Procedures:

Applicants Please Note: There is no Appeals Process for ineligible applications. Only applications reviewed by panels are eligible for the Appeals Process.

If an applicant believes that there are grounds for an appeal following the panel review of its application, a formal letter to the Executive Director of New Mexico Arts stating grounds for the appeal is required within thirty (30) days of receipt of funding notification, only if the applicant can demonstrate one of the following:

- The review of the application was based on criteria other than those appearing in the New Mexico Arts guidelines; or
- The decision was influenced by a review panel member or New Mexico Arts Commissioner with undisclosed conflicts of interest.

Applicants may not contact New Mexico Arts Commissioners or panelists to discuss their application during the review process or if filing an appeal. If an applicant has questions or concerns, s/he should contact New Mexico Arts program staff. Failure to comply with this policy may jeopardize the organization's future funding from New Mexico Arts.

All panel meetings are held in Santa Fe. For location and times, please call New Mexico Arts at 1-800-879-4278 or (505) 827-6490.

Folk Arts Apprenticeship Program:

Applicants interested in applying for the Folk Arts Apprenticeship Program should contact Claude Stephenson, Folk Arts Coordinator, for Apprenticeship Guidelines at 1-800-879-4278 or (505) 827-6490. Apprenticeship Guidelines are also available in PDF format at www.nmarts.org.

Art in Public Places Program:

New Mexico Arts' Art in Public Places Program enhances New Mexico communities and public spaces by building, through community involvement, an excellent and diverse collection of public art. The program promotes public art as a resource for education, advocacy, and economic opportunity. The program commissions and purchases artwork using 1% appropriations from state-funded construction budgets exceeding $100,000. For more information on the 1% and the Art in Public Places Program, please call New Mexico Arts at 1-800-879-4278 or (505) 827-6490.

New Mexico Arts Funding Guidelines

Program Coordinators can assist applicants in determining the correct category (before the December 7, 2007, deadline).

Public Presentation:

Any organization that receives funding from New Mexico Arts should have a public presentation component during the contract period. Examples of public presentations include exhibitions, publications, screenings, lectures, or performances. All public presentations must be open and accessible to the general public.

Non-Discrimination:

New Mexico Arts complies with all local, state, and federal laws and regulations concerning civil and human rights and must assure that programs, grants, and employment practices are free of any discrimination based on race, color, national origin, disability, sex, or age. Any program or activity receiving state financial assistance through New Mexico Arts must:

Sec. 1913 and 31 U.S.C. Sec. 1352; and the Debarment and Suspension provisions of 45 CFR, Part 1154.
- Compensate professional performers and related or supporting professional personnel at no less the prevailing minimum compensation as defined by the Secretary of Labor and assure that no part of a supported project will be performed or engaged in under working conditions that are unsanitary, hazardous, or dangerous to the health and safety of the employees involved.
- Complete and sign an Assurance of Compliance Form and a 504 Compliance and Ethnic Participation Form provided in the contract packet.

The New Mexico Arts' Arts Services Contract Agreement signed by all funded organizations requires compliance with these federal laws.

Final Reports:

A final narrative and financial report must be submitted by the contracted organization by the receipt deadline stipulated in the contract. Failure to comply can result in loss of 20% of the contracted amount. Non-receipt of required reports may jeopardize future funding from New Mexico Arts.

Funding from New Mexico Arts is on a reimbursement basis. However, New Mexico Arts cannot reimburse programming expenses until the arts services contract has been approved by the State Department of Finance and Administration.

Current New Mexico Arts Policies

Funding Fluctuations:

New Mexico Arts may experience funding fluctuations from one year to the next. Funding of an application one year does not guarantee funding the next. Whenever possible, New Mexico Arts will alert organizations of significant decreases in available funds. New Mexico Arts has the right not to award funding to an organization in the event that New Mexico Arts' priorities change or depending on an applicant's past or current performance.

New Mexico Arts reserves the right to adjust grant amounts, based on the available budget, to ensure compliance with performance measures, mandated by the legislature.

Cultural Diversity:

New Mexico Arts recognizes that there are a variety of cultural traditions in the state. Therefore, New Mexico Arts encourages the presentation and expansion of these cultural art forms and of organizations that represent a specific culture and present arts programming relative to that culture.

General Accessibility:

New Mexico Arts encourages applicants to consider accessibility in the broadest terms. Any organization or individual contracting with New Mexico Arts is required to be in compliance with the Americans With Disabilities Act of 1990 and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. As stated in the law, contractors must make "reasonable accommodations" that are "readily achievable" to ensure that all programs, services, and facilities are accessible to individuals with disabilities. Such events should also be accessible to the public through provision of adequate notice of the event, proper scheduling of the venue to allow for the greatest number of attendees, adequate parking and signage, and ticket price.

Non-Traditional Applicants:

Applicants to New Mexico Arts do not have to be arts organizations, but individual artists may not apply. As long as applicants can satisfy eligibility requirements, they are welcome to apply. For example, in some communities, non-traditional applicants may be the only organizations qualified to apply, such as chambers of commerce, historical societies, etc. Please refer to the funding categories for specific information regarding eligibility. New Mexico Arts' Program Coordinators can assist applicants in determining the correct category.

Use of Fiscal Agent Policy:

Organizations that do not have Federal 501 (c) (3) status or have not applied to the IRS for 501 (c) (3) status by December 7, 2007, are required to use a Fiscal Agent.

Applicants using a Fiscal Agent need to read the following policy carefully.

Nonprofit organizations who choose to serve as Fiscal Agents for New Mexico Arts funding must have a letter of approval on record from their boards, stating that the board is fully aware of the legal responsibilities and implications of serving as a Fiscal Agent, that funding to the applicant organization will be held in a separate account, and that no more than 5% of the funding award will be charged as a fee for serving in this capacity. New Mexico Arts reserves the right to audit the Fiscal Agent to ensure that these requirements are being met. New Mexico Arts strongly encourages organizations serving as Fiscal Agents to have liability insurance for their board members.

FISCAL AGENT AGREEMENT

Organizations planning to use a Fiscal Agent need to pay close attention to the following information outlining responsibilities of the Fiscal Agent and Applicant Organization.

The Fiscal Agent agrees to assume the legal responsibility for the Applicant Organization and its proposed projects in relationship to New Mexico Arts and to fulfill the following responsibilities:

- To authorize the filing of the application through the approval of its governing body;
- To designate an Authorizing Official (chairman of the board of directors or other member of the board's executive committee) to sign the application form;
- If a contract is awarded, to read carefully and sign any application revisions as well as the contract;
- Not to charge more than 5% of the amount funding for serving in this capacity;
- To make certain that the terms of the contract are fulfilled by the Applicant Organization; and
- To serve as the Fiscal Agent for the Applicant Organization, and if a contract is awarded, to receive checks from New Mexico Arts on behalf of the Applicant Organization, to place those checks in a restricted fund or separate bank account, and to promptly redistribute those funds to the Applicant Organization.

The Fiscal Agent understands that if the Applicant Organization does not fulfill the terms of the contract by submitting required final reports, future funding of the Fiscal Agent and the Applicant Organization by New Mexico Arts may be affected.

The Applicant Organization agrees to:

- Complete the paperwork required by New Mexico Arts and to acquire the necessary signatures from the Authorizing Official;
- Supply the Fiscal Agent with a copy of the application and any subsequent revisions;
- If a contract is awarded, supply the Fiscal Agent with copies of the cash requests which the Applicant Organization's Project Director submits to New Mexico Arts;
- Inform the Fiscal Agent, as well as New Mexico Arts, about the progress of the proposed project, including any changes that may occur;
- Comply with the terms of the Arts Services Contract with New Mexico Arts so as not to jeopardize the future eligibility of the Fiscal Agent and the Applicant Organization; and
- Inform New Mexico Arts and the Authorizing Official if the Project Director or the contact information for the Project Director changes at any time during the contract period.

Funding Categories

Arts Learning in Schools: Projects and Artist Residency

New Mexico Arts offers two grant categories for arts education projects in or with K-12 schools: Arts Learning in Schools Projects and Arts Learning in Schools Artist Residency. Charter schools and 501 (c) (3) private schools may apply for themselves. Public schools must apply through the parent-teacher organization if that organization is a 501 (c) (3) or through the school district.

Arts Learning in Schools Projects

Arts Learning in Schools Projects funding supports a wide range of programs taking place in K-12 schools either during school hours or during after-school programs. These programs may focus on creative process arts activities, arts activities integrated into other content areas, art history, or arts education professional development. Residencies with individual artists, however, must apply in the Artist Residency category. Projects may be short-term, mid-length, or long-term.

Short-term projects include numerous arts education experiences within one school or within a school district. Examples of such projects include, but are not limited to, a class-session art history presentation given in several classrooms throughout the district or an arts specialist teamed with a classroom teacher to present a class-session arts integrated program in numerous classrooms throughout their school.

Mid-length projects could range from a week to a month and include (but are not limited to) activities such as intensive immersion in an art form during that time or an arts specialist teamed with several classroom teachers to create and present a month-long arts integrated program in several classrooms in their school. One example is a visiting theater company that auditions participants, conducts rehearsals, and presents a play to the public at the end of a week.

Long-term projects could last a quarter, semester, or even a full school year. An example of a long-term project includes, but is not limited to, a weekly arts activity integrated into a non-arts classroom for a semester.

All projects should have strong evaluation and assessment components built into the project.

Arts Learning in Schools Projects Eligibility Criteria:

- Program evaluation can include student artwork, performance appraisals, mapping tools, surveys of students, and other methods.
- The project must be in alignment with New Mexico State Standards and Benchmarks for the grade level, artistic discipline(s), and, if an arts-integration project, the core content area.
- The application must include a letter of commitment from the principal(s) stating that s/he is committed to the project and the level at which s/he will participate in and support the project.
- Applicants for Projects are limited to a maximum request of $20,000.
- Funding for Projects must include a 50% match by the applicant organization, at least half of which must be cash.

Arts Learning in Schools Artist Residency

Artist Residency funding supports guest individual artists teamed with certified teachers to create programs that promote learning in and through the arts for schools. Residencies may take place in schools either during school hours or during after-school programs. Residencies may also take place off the school campus if the participants are teachers with their students. (Please note: Residencies for participants from the general community that occur in facilities other than schools should apply for funding in another category.)

Artist residencies in schools support visiting individual artists collaborating with certified teachers to provide hands-on involvement in the creative process for students based on New Mexico arts education standards. Residencies may also include professional development activities for teachers, administrators, and artists. Residencies should be considered as supplemental to a school's regular arts education program. Residencies may enhance an elementary school's basic Elementary Fine Arts Education Program; secondary schools are encouraged to present residencies as well. Preference will be given to underserved schools.

Arts Learning in Schools Artist Residency Eligibility Criteria:

- A residency must take place for a minimum of twenty (20) contact hours, which may occur in one week or over up to thirty-six (36) weeks. (Note: a school with a four-day week may present a sixteen (16) hour residency.)
- Program evaluation of a residency in a school can include student artwork, performance appraisals, mapping tools, surveys of students, and other methods.
- The residency must include at least one planning session with the artist, teacher, and others involved in the residency at least three (3) weeks before the scheduled residency. The artist must receive a fee of $125 for attending the planning session. In cases where long distance travel would be required, the planning session may be conducted as a telephone meeting.
- The residency must be in alignment with New Mexico Standards and Benchmarks for the grade level and artistic discipline.
- The application must include a letter of commitment from the principal(s) stating that s/he is committed to the residency and the level at which s/he will participate in and support the residency.
- The school or host organization must provide each artist with space to hold an open studio or community session during the residency.
- The artist must be paid at least $37.50 for each contact hour.
- Travel reimbursement for the artist of at least $0.32 a mile must be provided if the artist's travel from home to the residency site exceeds 20 miles round trip.
- Artistic Samples (Form F) should include samples of the resident artist's work. If this residency is a continuation from previous years, samples of former participants' work should also be included.
- A per diem of $85 a day must be provided for the artist when overnight lodging and meals are necessary.
- Applicants for an Artist Residency are limited to a maximum request of $10,000.
- Funding for an Artist Residency must include a 50% match by the applicant organization, at least half of which must be cash.

Briefly explain any significant changes such as debt, dramatic increases or decreases, as well as any funding sources such as business/corporate, local government, foundation, private support, etc. Do not restate your program intent in this section.

FORM D4: In-kind Income and Expenses

The In-kind Income and Expenses should reflect any anticipated in-kind support for your proposed program. In-kind can be listed only for Income as Business/Corporate Support, Foundation Support, Private Support (Individual Contributions), and/or Government Support. Any in-kind listed as income should also be listed as expenses and vice versa. Be sure that the total in-kind income is equal to the total in-kind expenses.

Note: In-kind should be listed on the appropriate lines that correspond with the in-kind contribution. For example, if you receive free advertising or promotional services, place the in-kind value on the marketing/public relations line under the in-kind expense column.

An in-kind donation is a service or goods provided to an organization at no charge, which has cash value, for example; a printing job, a professional's services (to be listed as business support) at the actual billable rate (accountant, choreographer, lighting designer, etc.), facility rental, etc. In-kind volunteer hours (individual contributions) are calculated at current market wages, at least federal minimum wage ($7.50/hr), unless the volunteer is donating professional services, which are calculated at professional rates and should be listed as "business support."

FORM D5: In-kind Detail

The In-kind Detail should reflect the anticipated in-kind support for your proposed program. In-kind is the value of services or goods provided to an organization at no charge. Please show how you calculate dollar values for your in-kind contributions. Volunteer time is calculated at a rate comparable to what the current market wage would be. The minimum amount to be used should be federal minimum wage ($7.50/hr). If the volunteer is donating professional services, the hourly rate would be that person's professional rate. Donated materials and donated space (rental) directly involved with the proposed program should be calculated at fair market rate. Do not include board members' usual duties such as board meetings, organizational retreats, and committee meetings as in-kind support.

The following can be used as a guide to calculate in-kind:

- *A sound technician usually charges $500 for comparable services. If for instance s/he receives $200 in cash payment, then $300 dollars could be considered donated in-kind business contribution.
- *If a performance occurs in a donated space, the usual price of $600 per night rental would be considered in-kind rental contribution.
- *Ten (10) people volunteer three (3) hours each at no charge to be ushers for a performance. $10 \times 3 \times $7.50 = \225 total in-kind individual contribution.

FORM E: Key Administrative and Technical Personnel

Please give the name and position title for key administrative/artistic and technical personnel with the applicant organization (may be volunteers) involved in the proposed program only. Key administrative personnel include executive/managing directors, public relations/marketing personnel, program directors, development directors, facility managers, etc. Key artistic and technical personnel include artistic directors, choreographers, curators, stage managers, lighting/sound technicians, performers, conductors, residency artists, etc. Include job duties for the applicant organization, education, and brief work history. Be as specific as space allows. Form E must include at least one personnel listing. Applicants with no paid staff should list board/advisory members or volunteers who act as administrative, artistic, and technical staff for the organization. Be as specific as space allows.

Please include no more than six (6) administrative/artistic and technical personnel.

FORM F: Artistic Samples Key

Note: Artistic Samples represent 7-10 points of a total of 35 points for Artistic Quality and Creativity. If you do not submit any artistic samples, 7-10 points will automatically be deducted from your Artistic Quality and Creativity score, depending on your category.

Artistic samples are your opportunity to demonstrate the superior artistic quality of the proposed program. Please enter N/A in sections that are not applicable.

Audio/Visual Samples

Be selective. Each applicant's artistic samples will be viewed for a maximum of ten (10) minutes, with the average viewing time between three (3) and five (5) minutes. Present the best three (3) to five (5) minutes of programming at the beginning of the sample. Brief, crisp montages are preferable to long performances. Panelists have limited time to review your samples and often do not need the full ten (10) minutes allotted to make their assessment. Avoid talking about your organization; panelists want to see or hear the work. Panelists also like to see audience interaction with artists, and examples of work by teachers as well as students, if applicable.

Present current work. Panelists want to see and hear similar or actual programs for which New Mexico Arts funding support is being sought. Accordingly, samples should reflect programs from within the last two years.

Choose appropriate media. For panel meetings, New Mexico Arts will use a laptop computer with Windows media software that will accept only audio CDs, video DVDs, and digital image files on CDs or DVDs.

Video DVD

For performing arts, including dance, theater, opera, music, and media arts. Video submissions must be playable by Windows-based media players. DVDs that play on standard commercial DVD players are acceptable. Other acceptable formats include .mpg., .wmv, and .avi. You may submit only one (1) Video DVD. Label the DVD and jewel case with the organization name and selected track(s). List Video DVD sample information on Form F.

Audio CDs

For performing arts, including music and vocal. Audio recordings must be playable by Windows-based media players. CDs that are playable on standard commercial CD players are acceptable. Other acceptable formats are .cda, .mp3., .wav, and .wma. You may submit only one (1) Audio CD with a maximum of three (3) tracks on that CD. Label the CD and jewel case with the organization name and selected track(s). List Audio CD sample information on Form F.

Digital Image Files and CD or DVD

For visual arts. Submit up to 10 images that must be readable by Windows, positioned the way you want them displayed. Acceptable file formats are .jpg, .gif, .pdf, and .tif. Files should be no larger than 1.8MB. Make sure your CD or DVD is finalized. This option is sometimes listed "Make CD for use on another computer" on CD burning programs. Applicants must take this last step to ensure that other systems can read it. Provide a list of annotated images on Form F, including artist name, title of work, date completed, medium, and dimensions. Each digital image must be titled with the artist's name and number that corresponds to the annotated image list on Form F. For example, artistname01.jpg, artistname02.jpg. Label the CD or DVD and jewel case with the organization name.

Test your CD or DVD before submitting it.

Printed Material

Printed material should reflect work and/or programs from within the last two years and is limited to three (3) total items, one item per plastic sleeve that will fit in a three-ring binder. You must send ten (10) sets of the three (3) items (one set per panelist) with your application.

Printed Material may include any of the following items: season program/brochure, newsletter, magazine, anthology, other publication, review, article, letter of support, color photocopy, etc. List the three (3) items on Form F.

Return Samples

Applicants who would like to have their artistic samples returned must include a self addressed stamped envelope (SASE), with correct postage in their application packet. Please be sure to indicate whether or not you would like your samples returned. Applicants, please be aware that panelists have the option to keep any printed material, so all submitted copies may not be returned to you.

Copyrights

For all artistic samples (including audio/visual samples and printed material, applicants must respect copyrights. Applicants should be aware that any submitted material, video or otherwise, must be legal and not in violation of any state or federal laws, and that the applicant is liable for any material that violates intellectual property rights. If there is any copyright violation, it is by the applicant who makes and submits a video for viewing because s/he has made the copy. If a person or entity causes a copy to be made of a copyrighted expression without permission from the copyright holder, whether it's a video, writing, photo, or some other tangible medium of expression, then they may be infringing on the copyright holder's copyright.

Board Member List (3 pages maximum)

Note: This is an Applicant-created form. Please provide this information on an 8 ½" x 11" sheet of paper with a minimum of 1" margins all around. New Mexico Arts will only accept a maximum of three (3) pages in no less than 10-point type. Please mark each sheet by numbering at the bottom center of each sheet.

Every applicant must submit a separate list of Board Members for the Applicant Organization. Applicant Organizations who have not yet received 501 (c) (3) Federal tax-exempt status should submit a list of advisory committee members. Schools, colleges, universities, and units of government should submit the school board, trustees, board of regents, or municipal/county/Indian tribal commission or council.

The Board Member List should include the following:

New Mexico Arts encourages organizations to be aware that having paid contractors or staff who are also board members could be perceived as a conflict of interest situation. If an organization insists on this organizational structure, New Mexico Arts strongly encourages the adoption of a conflict of interest policy that addresses the circumstance. A sample policy and other technical assistance are available from New Mexico Arts.
